Southeast Area Development and Improvement Plan | City of Long Beach

Community Workshop

Outreach efforts are continuing for comprehensive review and update of the plan historically known as the Southeast Area Development and Improvement Plan (SEADIP). The second of three community workshops for the project will be held on August 6th. The focus of the second workshop is the Opportunities and Constraints Workbook, which summarizes initial research conducted by the planning team. At the workshop, the community will learn more about the various topics addressed in the Workbook and have opportunities to provide feedback. The Workbook is currently available for review on the project website at www.lbds.info/seadip_update.
