INTRODUCTION

Every community has a need for adequate, affordable housing, especially for its low-income residents. The City of Long Beach (“City”) is no exception. The City’s stock of low-income multi-family rental units is aging, and there is little new construction on the horizon, despite the number of low-income residents in the City.

Rehabilitation of existing multi-family housing units is a practice approach to meeting these residents’ housing needs. To assist owners of these units in financing rehabilitation, the City through its non-profit housing agency, The Long Beach Community Investment Company (CITY/LBCIC), offers rehabilitation construction loans at extremely low rates in connection with its partnership with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) HOME Investment Partnership Program (HOME Program).

The HOME Program

The HOME program, established under the National Affordable Housing Act of 1990, represents a historic affirmation of the federal government’s commitment to providing decent, safe and affordable housing for all Americans and to alleviating the problems of severe rent burdens and deteriorating housing nationwide.

At least 90% of the funds dispersed under this program must be used to rehabilitate units occupied by families earning no more than 60% of the area median income, with the remaining families earning no more than 80% of the median income. The rents in assisted units must be affordable to low-income families and remain affordable to them for a reasonable period of time. The City’s experience has been that, in low-income areas, almost all families earn less than the maximum incomes allowable under HUD guidelines. Please see Table A for Income Limits and Table B for applicable rents.

Terms of the Loan

Loan to owners of rental units of 5 or more on a lot is available at 0% interest for 20 years thereafter, on properties located anywhere within the City. The minimum loan amount is $1,000 per unit. The maximum loan amount is subject to HUD’s per-unit subsidy limits which can be provided by program staff.

Everyone Benefits

Everyone benefits from these programs: owners protect the value of their properties, low-income families have the improved housing they desperately need, and the City/CITY/LBCIC invests in upgrading the quality of housing and its neighborhoods.

THE MULTI-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL REHABILITATION LOAN PROGRAM

The rehabilitation loan program enables property owners to make improvements easily and at low cost.

How Does the Program Work?

You apply for a loan using the application form included with this booklet. (The staff of the Housing Division can help you complete the paperwork.) Upon receipt of the application, staff will order a title report and an inspection of the property. The inspection is done by a representative of the City and the owner, who both must agree on the scope of work. You are given a work write-up, prepared by the CITY/LBCIC that details the work to be done on each unit. The work write-up is the basis on which you solicit bids from contractors. Rehabilitation must correct all code-related conditions. The contractor that you choose to rehabilitate your property will be required to comply with Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) HOME Program, City, and State of California (STATE) requirements, including payment of prevailing wages, if applicable. Payment of prevailing wages and the related monitoring cost, which will increase the cost of your project, are required. When you have selected a bid, the Rehabilitation Division presents it and your loan application to the CITY/LBCIC for review and approval.

When a loan is approved, you and the CITY/LBCIC execute the loan documents. Then your contractor begins work according to the agreed-upon detailed work write-up. The CITY/LBCIC pays the contractor on a “draw” system in three equal progress payments as each third of the work (measured by cost) is completed, inspected, and approved. To protect you against the filing of any mechanics’ or material suppliers’ liens, 15% of each progress payment is retained until 30 days after the rehabilitation is complete. If no liens are filed within 30 days, the remaining funds are released.

You can apply for a loan to rehabilitate all of the units in your property, or only some of them. In either case, existing code deficiencies in all units must be corrected as part of the rehabilitation.

How Is Eligibility Determined?

Eligibility for a loan is determined by several factors, including the quality of the property, the amount of existing debt and your credit-worthiness. Some of the eligibility criteria are set by federal regulations, others by the CITY/LBCIC.

The following are the basic requirements a property must meet in order to be considered for a rehabilitation loan.

- The property must be located in the City of Long Beach.
- All current taxes must be paid.

- There can be no outstanding judgments against the property.
- None of the living units can have a primary entrance on a public alley.
- No existing loan can carry a balloon payment that will come due during the term of the proposed City loan.
- The debt-to-value ratio, as determined by an after-value appraisal – which accounts for all loans, including the proposed City loan – cannot exceed 80%.
- If the debt-to-value ratio, including the amount of the City loan, approaches or reaches 80%, the City’s lien must be no lower than second in position. As equity increases or under certain other circumstances, the City may consider a lesser position.
- You must be able to demonstrate that the property will produce enough cash flow to pay for its operating and maintenance needs as well as repay all debt, including the City loan.
- You must be able to demonstrate a commitment to quality maintenance and management of the property.

Household Incomes, Rent Levels, and Other Affordability Criteria

Because the loan program is designed to improve housing quality for low- and very-low-income families, HUD imposes certain restrictions on household incomes and rent levels for units that are assisted by the program.

Household Incomes. At the time you sign loan documents with the City:

- All units to be rehabilitated using CITY/LBCIC funds (the assisted units) must be occupied by households whose incomes are 80% or less of the Long Beach area median income as determined by HUD;
- At least 90% of the assisted units must be occupied by households whose incomes are 60% or less of the median family income in the Long Beach area; and
- At least 20% of the assisted units must be occupied by households whose incomes are at or below the 50% level. These households are included in the 90% of total units referenced above.

Table A specifies these income levels for households ranging in size from 1 to 8 persons, as defined by HUD. Later increases in tenants’ incomes do not affect the eligibility of units under this program, except that families whose incomes are at or below 50% of the area median must always occupy at least 20% of the units during the “period of affordability” following rehabilitation (see below).

Rent Levels and Utility Adjustments. At the time you sign loan documents, rents for the assisted units must meet affordability requirements specified by HUD for “low” and “very-low” income households based on the number of bedrooms in each unit. At least 20% of the units must be offered at rents that HUD defines as affordable to “very-low-income” households (those earning 50% or less of the area median). At least 70% of the units must be offered at rents affordable to households earning 60% or less of the area median. The remaining 10% of the units may be offered at rents affordable to households earning 80% or less of the area median. Table B specifies these rental amounts.

If tenants are required to pay utilities, the allowable rents must be reduced accordingly; Table C specifies the reductions for tenant-paid utilities.

Long-Term Affordability and Monitoring Requirements.

HUD regulations require the CITY/LBCIC to work with you to ensure that assisted units remain affordable to the target resident population for a “period of affordability” of 5 years after project completion if rehabilitation costs are less than $15,000 per unit, 10 years after project completion if costs exceed $15,000 per unit, or 15 years after project completion if costs exceed $40,000 per unit. During the period of affordability, the following conditions are in effect:

- There are caps on rent levels for the assisted units that are indexed to the current Fair Market Rent (FMR) during each year.
- Tenants must be offered one-year leases. (You are not penalized or otherwise affected if a tenant declines a lease.)
- You, as the owner/borrower, cannot occupy an assisted unit.
- No assisted unit can be used for commercial purposes.
- You participate with the City in an affirmative marketing program, which includes conformance to the City’s open housing policy as defined by the Fair Housing Council.
- The City/CITY/LBCIC annually conducts on-site inspections of the assisted units to determine compliance with occupancy requirements.

Criteria for Priority Consideration

In addition to the basic eligibility criteria for qualifying a loan application, federal and City guidelines are used to select properties that offer the greatest potential benefits to all parties under the program.

Quality of the Building

Priority is given to buildings that:

- Have more square feet for the same number of bedrooms per unit;
- Are compatible with their neighborhoods and conform to zoning codes;
- Provide a sleeping area, bath and kitchen in all units;
- Provide existing site amenities such as open space, play areas, or landscaping;
- Are not so dilapidated that rehabilitation is impossible or prohibitively expensive;

- Have existing on-site parking facilities.

Performance of the Owner

Your credit-worthiness is important. Foreclosures, bankruptcies, defaults, or judgments decrease priority, as does poor performance on any prior City loan.

IT IS THE PROPERTY OWNER'S RESPONSIBILITY TO DETERMINE THE INCOME ELIGIBILITY OF TENANT HOUSEHOLDS AS FOLLOWS:

TENANT HOUSEHOLD INCOME DETERMINATIONS AT INITIAL OCCUPANCY, & EVERY 6TH YEAR OF THE AFFORDABILITY PERIOD: Income eligibility determinations MUST be carried out using the 24 CFR Part 5 Definition of Annual (Gross) Income. Use the attached paperwork entitled "Calculation Method of 24CFR Part 5" From HUD publication entitled "Technical Guide for Determining Income and Allowances for the HOME Program" HUD-1780-CPD, published June 1999.

TENANT HOUSHOLD INCOME DETERMINATIONS DURING THE PERIOD OF AFFORDABILITY OTHER THAN AT INITIAL OCCUPANCY OR EVERY 6TH YEAR: Annual recertification of income of in-place tenant households MUST be done. The property owner may conduct annual recertification of income of in-place tenant households by obtaining completed, signed and dated "Recertification of Annual Income by Tenant Household" forms from the tenant households. These blank forms are provided by the City.

IF AFTER INITIAL OCCUPANCY A TENANT HOUSEHOLD'S INCOME RISES ABOVE 80% OF AREA MEDIAN, AND THUS THEY NO LONGER QUALIFY AS LOW-INCOME: Per 24 CFR 92.252(i)2: "Tenants who no longer qualify as low-income families must pay as rent the lesser of the amount payable by the tenant under State or local law or 30 percent of the household's adjusted income, except that tenants of HOME-assisted units that have been allocated low-income housing tax credits by a housing credit agency pursuant to section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. 42) must pay rent governed by section 42. In addition, in projects in which the HOME units are designated as floating pursuant to paragraph (j), tenants who no longer qualify as low-income are not required to pay as rent an amount that exceeds the market rent for comparable, unassisted units in the neighborhood." The property owner MUST use the calculation method of 24CFR5.611 to calculate 30% of adjusted income in order to determine rent for over-income tenants who were income eligible at the time of initial occupancy. Use the attached paperwork entitled "Calculation Method of 24CFR5.611" from HUD publication entitled "Technical Guide for Determining Income and Allowances for the HOME Program" HUD-1780-CPD, published June 1999.

THE PROPERTY OWNER MUST RETAIN ALL RECORDS OF TENANT INCOME VERIFICATIONS, RENTS, INSPECTIONS, AND OTHER HOME PROGRAM REQUIRED PAPERWORK, UNTIL FIVE YEARS AFTER THE AFFORDABILITY PERIOD TERMINATES.
